
SUZAN-LORI PARKS'S CALENDAR

This calendar may contain 365 plays for 365 days, but it's only got twelve holidays... and for some reason you have to place them yourself?

- There is one holiday per month. Each is observed by taking a certain action.
 - For the purposes of this puzzle, spring is March through May, summer is June through August, fall is September through November, and winter is December through February.
 - The calendar is not treated as looping (so that if Holiday A is described as being three months after Holiday B, Holiday A cannot be in January).
1. The holiday on which you dig in a sandbox is before Afternoon of the Elves, but after the holiday on which you cuddle a pet or loved one.
 2. The holiday on which you try to build a fire is four months before Evening Gown Day.
 3. Plastic Dinosaur Day is either three months before or three months after the holiday on which you tell people to have a delicious day.
 4. Upside Down Day is not in the fall, nor is the day on which you invent a story about a favorite creature.
 5. Wet Beast Day is in the second half of the year, and is before the holiday on which you party with ninety or more friends.
 6. The holiday on which you paint a picture of someone or something you miss is either in May or February. Whichever month it isn't in is the month of Eggplant Parmigiana Day.
 7. Wobbly Stump Day, which is in the fall, features an observance that can be done alone.
 8. Pancake Toppings Day and Green Tea Day are consecutive in some order. The former is adjacent to a holiday whose observance also starts with P.
 9. The holiday where you eat a cookie in the park, the one where you go from place to place handing out gifts, and the one where you shout or yell loudly are the last holidays of their respective seasons.
 10. The holiday where you hide in a tower and make strange sounds and the holiday where you make a new crayon color are two months after and five months after Ash Tree Day, in some order.
 11. Blocks Party is in the summer and its observance is something that very young children should not do.
 12. Broken Umbrella Day is in the first half of the year, and its observance does not involve interacting with other people.
 13. The first holiday of the year starts with P and its observance is animal-related.

14. All fall holiday observances are noisy.
15. All spring observances involve being nice to people.
16. All summer observances are outdoor activities.
17. All winter observances are creative.
18. No fall holiday has a name involving non-humanoid creatures or consumable things.
19. Holidays whose names start with the same letter are never in consecutive months.

Month	Holiday Name	Observance
January (01)
February (02)
March (03)
April (04)
May (05)
June (06)
July (07)
August (08)
September (09)
October (10)
November (11)
December (12)

	Afternoon of the Elves	Ash Tree Day	Blocks Party	Broken Umbrella Day	Evening Gown Day	Eggplant Parmigiana Day	Green Tea Day	Plastic Dinosaur Day	Pancake Toppings Day	Upside Down Day	Wet Beast Day	Wobbly Stump Day	Cuddle a pet...	Dig in a sandbox	Eat a cookie in the park	Go from place to place...	Hide in a tower...	Invent a story...	Make a new crayon color	Paint a picture...	Party with ninety...	Shout or yell loudly	Tell people to have...	Try to build a fire
Jan
Feb
Mar
Apr
May
Jun
Jul
Aug
Sep
Oct
Nov
Dec
Cuddle
Dig
Eat
Go
Hide
Invent
Make Paint
Party
Shout
Tell
Try																								